Death rode with Christmas, taking 178 lives in automobile accidents,
fires, drownings, hunting misfortunes,
brawls and by poison liquor.

The middle west suffered most on
the holiday, but no section of the country escaped.

Accidents as reported to the Associated Press up to midnight last night
were as follows:

AUTOS, FIRE AND GUNS CLAIM 22 IN SOUTHEAST BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Twenty-two Dixie families tonight
had replaced the holly wreaths of Yuletide happenings with crepe, the symbol of sadness.

Untold other families had their houses of a joyful Christmas dashed by fireworks accidents and under the wheels of automobiles, as reports were received here of numerous injuries to persons residing in the south.

Autos took a toll of 19 of the 22
persons killed Christmas Eve and to-
day. Fire was responsible for one death and an accidental discharge of
a shotgun the other fatality.

Tennessee, with six automobile accidents, led the other southern states in
total fatalities for the two days.

Kentucky and Mississippi each reported three fatalities within the state
for the two days with North Carolina,
Arkansas and Florida, running close
with two and one each from Louisiana and Georgia.

Raymond Giddens, 16, was accidentally killed at Pensacola, Fla., when
a shotgun was discharged as he unloaded a wagon filled with holiday decorations. Glover Braswell, young man of Monticello, Fla., was accidentally killed when his shotgun discharged
as he picked it up to start on a hunting trip.

Mrs. Antonio Rodriguez died at Birmingham today from injuries received
yesterday when her dress caught fire
from a heater in a bathroom.

47 LIVES LOST IN MIDWEST MISHAPS

CHICAGO, Dec. 25.—(AP)—Christmas cheer ruled in the great majority
of homes in the middle west, but today many families removed their holly
wreaths and Christmas trees to substitute crepe and caskets.

Forty-seven persons, including seven
children, lost their lives in this section Christmas Eve and today.

Automobile accidents were responsible for a majority of the fatalities—
killing 30 persons. Eight persons were burned to death, three were killed
in hunting accidents, two died in the collapse of a bridge in Missouri, and one in an Indiana street car accident.

The number of deaths by states was:
Missouri, 11; Wisconsin, 10;
Indiana, 8; Michigan, 6; Minnesota,
6; Illinois, 4; North Dakota, 1, and Iowa, 1.

Two separate automobile accidents
in Wisconsin accounted for 10 deaths.
At Lomira a father, two grandsons
and three children were killed in a collision between their automobile
bound for church and a train. The mother and a young son had remained
at home. A father was injured probably fatally at Chippewa Falls, Wis.,
and his wife and three children were killed in a second automobile collision.

ITALIAN SKY FLEET REACHES BOLAMA

BY THOMAS B. MORGAN.

ROME, Dec. 25.—(UP)—The Italian seaplanes on a cruise to South America landed safely today at Bolo-
ma, Portuguese Guinea, on the west coast of Africa, starting point of their trans-Atlantic flight, it was officially announced here.

The planes, commanded by Italo
Balbo, air minister, reached Boloma
at 4:30 p. m., local time, the communications said. There were 14 machines in the Christmas Day flight
down the Atlantic coast from Villa Cisneros, Rio del Oro. Two planes bringing spare parts and other repair
equipment accompanied the 12 sea-
planes which are scheduled to make the flight to Brazil.

Messages from Bolama related that
the planes left Villa Cisneros at 7:55
a. m., local time. The flight was made without incident. One plane, damaged
slightly at Kenitra, French Morocco,
last week, caught up with the others
at Villa Cisneros and made the flight
today.

The planes left Italy on December 17 on the cruise down the African coast and over the south Atlantic to Brazil. Storms and minor motor troubles split up the four squadrons frequently during last week on their flight to Bolama in easy stages, but nothing serious developed.

All precautions have been taken to make the transit to indicate the "foot
proof" and safe. A refueling ship has been stationed midway across the Atlantic. Warships have been ordered to patrol the route in case of fight,
reporting constantly to the seaplanes
on weather conditions and keeping in touch with the machines generally.

There are four squadrons in the flight, of three planes each. Each squadron is painted a different color—
red, orange and white, and so on. The expedition has captured popular imagination among the Italians.

The fact that the air minister, Bal-
bo, personally is commanding the
cruise was solid proof of the importance which the government has placed on the good-will sojourn to South America. It is planned to dispose of the seaplanes in South America, possibly to some government
there.

Granny "Makes Good,"
Meets Real Prince

LONDON, Dec. 25.—(AP)—Granny
Peterson has lived all her 77 years
in the mean streets of London's
east end—and her cup runneth
ethers.

She has met the king and queen, had a cup of tea with the queen and Princess Mary, shaken hands with Princess Beatrice and now she has shaken hands and had a talk with the Prince of Wales.

The prince, visiting a settlement,
saw a movie of Granny being presented to the queen. "I'd like to meet her," he said.

"I never thought I'd live to see
this day," wept Granny.

Santa Claus Makes It Unanimous Before Heading for Polar Home

It was a warm and bedraggled
Santa Claus who cranked up the motor of his airplane at Candler field
Thursday morning, hurried his empty
sacks into the cockpit, and thundered
his way back to the polar regions.

But here and there and no doubt everywhere, he left thousands upon
thousands of happy children whose pent-up energy burst forth and ran unleashed throughout the day and
whose tumblers Thursday night held
more than they ever held before and
in whose minds there was but a single dream, that of the castor oil bottle that sat on it a shelf in the medicine cabinet.

All Atlanta joined in the celebration, fathers, mothers and children
casting aside their cares and woes and
entering fully into the spirit of the season. In the homes of both the rich and poor there was joy and happiness, for those who had, after providing for their own, saw that those who hadn't got theirs. The good fellows were busy from early Wednes-

day and by noon Thursday the home
of every needy family had been visited.
Church and civic organizations
joined in spreading the good cheer
and in every neighborhood the Christmas baskets were carried. If there was a person or a family missed it wasn't the fault of those who had been to see that the cheer was everywhere.

In the churches, beginning with special services Christmas Eve and today, was wide observance. Thousands crowded into the Sacred Heart and Immaculate Conception churches for midnight masses, and the morning
thousands were services in
churches of all denominations and regardless of faith or creed all were joy-
ously celebrating the advent of Him
who came in the manger of Bethlehem nearly 2,000 years ago.

And at a late hour to the strains
of special services Christmas Eve and today, the celebration was drawing to close and Atlanta was preparing to put her nose back to the grindstone
today.

COL. MANN CALLS SOUTHERN G. O. P. GATHERING HERE

Former Leader in South
Says New Organization
Will Be Formed in Atlanta in February.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 25.—(UP)—
Before the senate finishes discussing
the controversy over the status of Senator George W. Norris, of Nebraska,
after the holiday recess, rumblings of
republican party discord will be heard
from another sector.

Horace Mann, celebrated mystery
man of the Hoover southern campaign
in 1928, will assemble republicans from southern states in Atlanta in February to formally launch an organization having as its object the selection
of a solid block of southern delegates
to the next republican convention.

"They won't be for Mr. Hoover nor against him," Mann explained today.
"They will be for the south and against carpetbag rule there. They will go to the next republican convention, caucus, decide upon their candidate and vote as a unit."

Will Organize Here.

He said the group would control 232
delegates from the south and West Virginia. That assumes his plans for electing his delegates will carry. Preliminary work, according to Mann,
has been completed. Incorporation papers for the "Southern States Republican League" will be filed in Atlanta about the middle of January and
a permanent organization will be set up there by the conference, Mann said.

If this group should combine with
the republican insurgents who are now
manifesting strong anti-Hoover sentiments, the next republican convention
might witness the warmest political contest since 1912, politicians believe.

Whether such a coalition will be formed may depend upon a number of factors. Mann indicated he felt there was a possibility of such a coalition.

We are interested first of all in the south but it is possible there may be common ground between the two groups, he said. Asked if his group could join in the Norris view favoring government operation of Muscle Shoals, he replied:

"I would be only an experiment in any case. We might as well try it and see what happens."

Ready to Strike.

Mann took over the organization of the Hoover campaign in southern states in 1928 when republicans for
the first time since reconstruction days
brought into the solid south a new four states. He had worked in intimate association with Charles H. Huston,
who later became chairman of the republican national committee.

However, within a month after Mr.
Hoover was inaugurated, Mann found himself shut out in the consideration
of southern federal appointments.

Mysterious Idaho Explosion Believed Caused by Impact Of Huge Meteor With Earth

Dozen Towns Feel Shock of Blast and See
Strange Light But Spot of Disturbance
Is Undetermined.

LEWISTON, Idaho, Dec. 25.—(AP)—
A mysterious light that flashed earth-
ward across the northern Idaho skies
last night and ended in a terrific
crash was being investigated today,
the prevailing belief being that it was
a meteor.

No fragments were found, but this
was explained by the known fact that many meteors in their rush through
the earth's atmosphere are dissipated
by friction.

The phenomenon appeared about 9:45 p. m. and lasted but a few seconds. Its crash, heard for miles, was described by some as "like an earthquake." Children, awaiting Santa Claus, were particularly impressed by
the display.

The meteor, if it was a meteor, was
seen by hundreds in Bovill, Orofino, Troy, Elk River, Moscow, Genesee,
Lewiston, Orchards, Juliaetta, Ken-
dric and other Idaho towns. It was also seen in Clatskanie, Wash., and in Spokane, 200 miles away. In each town residents said the object came
to earth in the direction of some other town.

Mrs. Joseph Holland, of Bovill,
who was returning from Christmas
Eve services when the light appeared,
said it looked like "three glowing
stars surrounded by an electric display," whistling through the air. "I thought of the Star of Bethlehem,"
she said; then there was a shock that frightened the entire town and the light vanished.

Descriptions of the brilliance of the
supposed meteor and the length of time required for it to pass through the air led Professor F. D. Laney,
of the University of Idaho at Moscow, to say it resembled another meteor that fell nine years ago in the Seven Devils country near here.

Dr. Laney, in a formal statement,
said he was not sure of the nature of
the phenomenon, but he believed it was
a meteor.

Thompson has broken openly with Bernard W. Snow, county committee chairman, and the county leaders who supported Ruth Hanna McCormick in
the senatorial contest.

Judge Lyle, in a formal statement,
said he was running because he considered the majority "the one spot in Chicago where all the lines that touch crime and racketeering converge."

He denounced the "ruthless, arrogant, unchecked reign of terror carried on by criminal gangsters and racketeers."

"They have hurt our business at home and abroad, and they have terrified our citizens, and they have driven away our investors and prospective visitors," he said.

"Through political influence and
money, they have bought immunity
from the law and have made it impossible for honest citizens to hope
for the votes of good citizens unless
he in unmistakable terms defines his position on the issue of divorcing
himself from politics and crime."

Such hoodlums as Capone and his underworld semi-political allies, should be totally annihilated. With a club
in one hand and a gun in the other,
officers should run them out of every
public building in this city."

Another anti-Thompson republican candidate, Charles V. Barrett, chairman of the county board of tax revision, announced last week he would run for mayor.

The democrats have only one candidate in the field, Anton J. Cernak,
state leader and protégé of the late George W. Brennan.

Men who brought the wounded here
and were witnesses to the shooting
were vague as to the cause of the shooting. They said Clarence Lovett
today, for the croppers reported the bank had lost upwards of 5-000,000 francs (about $200,000) in the last 24 hours of play.

Hour after hour the "run" on the bank continued. The players were lucky and had Santa Claus on their side. They couldn't lose and at the end of it the casino had paid out
millions of francs.

The croppers declared it was the
most determined attack on the bank
in years.

'First Grandchildren' of Nation
Hail Santa Claus' Annual Advent

BY ROBERT S. PICKENS.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—(AP)—
Santa Claus made a poor first impression on Herbert Hoover III, today.
He handed that young man a doll
from the top of his pack, and had it handed right back to him.

You may say young Herbert, politely,
but coldly.

"You are right," said Santa, his voice faintly resembling that of Lawrence Sanders, one of the president's secretaries. Thereupon Herbert was given a railway train and his niece
Santa Claus' judgment began improving.

The largest fireplace in the White House is in the state dining room. It was from that hole that Santa Claus
came.

Auto Plunges Over Bridge

Beach, Falling To River;
Body of Wife Sought.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Dec. 25.

(AP)—Oscar A. Barnes, manager of a local furniture company, was killed
tonight when his automobile ran off
the Main street bridge and plunged into the Halifax river. Police said
they believed a blowout caused the accident.

Barnes' body was recovered tonight
when the machine was raised from
the river.

Police were searching for the body
of Mrs. Barnes, who was believed by friends to have been in the car at the time of the accident. She had not been found four hours after the mishap.

Brooks Monroe, salesman with the furniture company, reported that he had left the Barnes car shortly before the accident occurred. The car
was driving and Barnes was riding
with her.

Friends of Barnes said he never
drove the machine himself.

OSCAR BARNES FORMER
ATLANTA BUSINESS MAN

Oscar Barnes formerly lived in At-

business and social circles. He was a partner in the retail furniture company, the Lively Furniture Company.

For the past 10 years he has been in business in Daytona Beach, where he was manager of the Mather-Barnes

native of Cobb county, Mr.
Barnes was reared in Atlanta and
had lived here all his life until 10
years ago when he moved to Florida.

He received his education in the public schools here. He was about 45 years old.

Mr. Barnes is survived by his mother, resident of Cobb county,
and several brothers and sisters.

Advices received by telephone from Atlanta associates of Mr. Barnes stated it was certain that Mrs. Barnes
had been in the car at the time of the accident, inasmuch as Barnes could not drive a car himself.

The same source said it was believed that a
second woman was also in the car.
Friends of the Barnes' saw both
Mrs. Barnes and her sister enter the car
about ten minutes before the accident occurred.

Cotton Mather, prominent Atlanta
businessman, who is head of the Mather chain of furniture stores, with which Mr. Barnes was associated, left Atlanta last night for Daytona Beach.

Efforts to locate Atlanta relatives
of Mr. Barnes were fruitless last night.

2 KILLED, 2 SHOT

Sudden Tragedy Comes

Christmas Party.

WILLIAMSBURG, Ky., Dec. 25.

(AP)—Two men were killed and two wounded in a gun battle at a Christmas party this afternoon at Kidd schoolhouse on Marsh creek in the mountains of McCreary county.

The dead were Frank Hamblin, 45,
and Clarence Lovett, 25, Golden Loverett, who was shot in the neck, and his son, Lester Lovett, wounded in the
leg. Clarence Lovett, who was killed,
was Golden Lovett's nephew.

The two wounded men were brought to a physician's office here where their wounds were treated. Their condition is not serious.

Men who brought the wounded here

COURT CONGESTION LAID TO DRY LAWS

$100,000,000 Called Sum
Necessary for Yearly Enforcement Task.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 25.—(AP)—
An estimate that 50,000 prohibition prisoners now inhabit federal and state jails and the contentions that federal court congestion "is due solely
to national prohibition," were made today by the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

In a statistical attack upon the dry
law, the association issued a pamphlet
asserting it would cost $100,000,000
a year to enforce prohibition adequately,
assuming that jury trials could be abolished in such cases. Otherwise, it contended the cost would rise to $350-
000,000, with an additional $200,000-000 added for the coast guard and customs agencies.

"All persons who have studied the
problem," the association said, "agree that the enormous profits from the illicit liquor trade are now used to finance the underworld and to strengthen the grip of criminal gangs in communities throughout the country."

Citing a statement made last year
by President Hoover that only a small part of the number of felonies "can be attributed to the prohibition amendment," John C. Gebhart, the association's research director, asserted this
was "an example of misinformation,"
since 88 per cent of the prohibition
violators sentenced in federal courts
are misdemeanors and not felons.

"The effect of liquor law violations,
both federal and state," the association concluded, "may be measured by
the number sent to federal and
state prisons and penitentiaries—only
a small proportion of those convicted
are given felony sentences."

"Civil cases to which the United States is a party have increased 347
per cent since 1920, but if we exclude prohibition actions the increase is only 117 per cent."

The pamphlet also contained figures
designed to show that if there had
been no prohibition, the cost of the Volstead act there would have been no
increase in the number of federal prisoners since 1920. It was contended
that last year "10,733 persons, convicted of violating the prohibition law
were boarded out in state and county
jails, to add to the already overcrowded condition of these local institutions."

"Federal courts and the personnel
of the attorney general's department
have never been increased sufficiently
to take care of the 70,000 prohibition
cases which the courts must handle
each year."

The pamphlet also contained figures
designed to show that if there had
been no prohibition, the cost of the Volstead act there would have been no
increase in the number of federal prisoners since 1920. It was contended

victed of violating the prohibition law

Christmas Costly Day
For Jay Gould's Bank

NICE, France, Dec. 25.—(UP)—

OPTIONAL PLAN URGED FOR WAR CERTIFICATES

Garner Would Permit Veterans To Draw Cash at Will.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 25.—(AP)—Payment of adjusted war service certificates on an optional basis was proposed today by Representative Garner, of Texas, the minority leader, as a means of "restoring the economic balance."

"The general demand for payment of this debt makes it imperative," he said, "that congress proceed to consider this proposed legislation without delay."

"Congress should pass a bill granting the World War veteran the option of turning in his certificate at any time and receiving the original settlement value plus 4 per cent interest to date of payment."

The optional plan, he said, would permit the veteran in distress to realize on his certificate to maturity. Garner said it would not require more than a billion dollars, while the treasury could borrow money at from 1-3-4 to 1-7-8 per cent.

Trolley Hits Bridge, SPLITS, KILLING ONE

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 25.—(AP)—Boarding a last-trip city street car late night with her arms loaded with Christmas purchases, Mrs. Everett Norris, wife of the conductor, found herself in a hospital here today seriously hurt. In addition her numerous packages were in a north side canal and her anticipated Christmas happiness shattered. It had been her intention to keep her husband company on his last run.

The car northbound with Brady Pierce, a substitute motorman, failed to slow down for a sharp turn in the track and the car struck a canal bridge sideways and split in two, the front part dropping into the water below. Pierce's body later was recovered from the vestibule of the car in four feet of water. Company officials claimed the brakes were in perfect condition and Pierce failed to see the curve in time.

NEW CAPITOL FILM DELIGHTFUL TREAT

"Sin Takes a Holiday" is a Pathe picture, with Constance Bennett, Kenneth MacKenna, Basil Rathbone and Rita LaRoy.

Some critics have called this Constance Bennett's greatest role of all time, not excluding her part in "The Sign of the Cross," a picture which she played in the same role as "Sin Takes a Holiday." Doubtless the superlative was correctly employed—certainly, for smartness, a diverting plot and near-perfection direction—it was "Sin Takes a Holiday" and has a remarkable human appeal, and is cleverly interspersed with a sex angle, possibly hitherto undeveloped in the speaking screen. Its direction, magnificently handled by Paul Stein, proves to be a sparkling example of American and continental technique combined.

The story concerns the somewhat simple and rather dowdy secretary of a lawyer—the prototype of many women in the business world, who, given the opportunity, develop into women of allure and fascination.

Miss Bennett, as the secretary, suddenly finds two of the most sought-after men in America vying for her favors. One of these is her husband, who has married her merely as a convenience and for protection. On the day of their marriage he had sent her abroad, so that he might continue his philandering.

Comes the highlight when the husband finds that the wife he took for convenience turns out to be the only real heart-break in his life. Returning from Europe she is transformed from an ugly duckling to the beautiful swan, and she intends to divorce him. Finally, however, things are adjusted, and all ends well. The performances of Kenneth MacKenna and Basil Rathbone are outstanding.

DISSATISFIED RUSSIANS SEEK LAND IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 25.—(AP)—Preferring voluntary exile to remaining in Soviet Russia, a group of Russians are seeking permission from the Mexican government to colonize great arid, semi-desert tracts in northern Mexico, which they say remind them in climate and topography of their homeland in Asiatic Turkistan.

V. Tereshenko, vice president of the "American Slave Colonization Trust, Inc.," has arrived in Mexico seeking authorization of the Mexican government for entry of members of the group, who he represents, which he describes as unsympathetic with the "social, economic and communistic experiment of the Russian government."

Mighty Il Duce Only Papa at Christmastime

ROME, Dec. 25.—(AP)—Benito Mussolini was not the only papa in his house, villa Torlonia, today for little Anna Maria Mussolini was there.

Anna Maria is spending her second Christmas on earth and it is natural at the age of 15 months not to take papa's importance too seriously.

She had moral support too from Romano Mussolini, age 4, and Bruno and Victor, also young enough to be excited over the celebration.

The duce and Donna Rachele Mussolini hung presents for all on the family Christmas tree and sent their greetings to the absent daughter Edla, who is spending her first Christmas away from home with her husband, Count Ciano, at Shanghai.

SHOOTINGS, STABBINGS
REPORTED IN MACON14-Year-Old Boy Injured by Truck; No Fatalities During Holidays.

MACON, Ga., Dec. 25.—(P)—While most of city was observing Christmas peacefully, several shootings and stabbings were reported from the negro population, 10 persons took anti-toxin for tetanus at the Macon hospital, and a 14-year-old boy was severely injured when a truck climbed a curb on Houston avenue and knocked him down.

The boy, Royce Gaines, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Gaines, was sitting on a new bicycle belonging to a friend. Several young fellows were playing together on Houston avenue near Herd street.

A wheel came off a Sawyer Coal & Ice Company truck which was said to have been driven by Ben Lindsey and the driver lost control of the vehicle, which was coming down a steep hill. The truck ran on the sidewalk, knocking the boy down.

The boy was taken to a hospital unconscious. He was suffering an injury to the head which at first was not regarded as serious, but as he regained consciousness he had a concussion. He was coming from the hospital and physicians said his skull appeared to be fractured.

Popping firecrackers caused no serious injuries, it was reported, but several took anti-toxin to safeguard against tetanus. Most of those who went to the hospital had minor powder burns of the hands and legs. None was admitted and physicians believed that on account of the precautions taken there will be no tetanus this Christmas.

Police said that arguments over women caused most of the fights among negroes. Eddie Jones, negro, was shot in the high back by William Chapman, negro, who admitted the shooting, police said. The latter was charged with disorderly conduct, shooting in the city, carrying a concealed pistol and assault with intent to murder.

Charlie Mallory, negro, was charged with stabbing Marie Smith, negro, the negro "was whacking away at her hip with a knife" when Motor-cyclist Officer J. P. Stripling entered the house, he said. She also had a bump on the head, which police said

Fifty Horses Guests
At Christmas Tree
'Party and Luncheon'Money Sent to Counties Receiving School Equalization Fund.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Dec. 25.—(P)—Fifty horses were invited guests at high noon Thursday at a Christmas tree party and luncheon.

George R. Sousa, Augusta's humane officer, sent out invitations several days ago to the horses of the community to come and enjoy his Christmas party.

It was a self-service affair, each horse taking his own nose bag filled with oats, corn and hay from the tree. It was pretty tough not to be permitted to nibble from the tree but the guests stood the ordeal fairly well.

Many of the owners who brought their animals to the luncheon themselves had found the matter of eating recently a problem, but other provisions had been made for them and they too enjoyed a full meal with all the holiday fixings.

DEPARTMENT BUSY

Persons with distorted ideas of practical joking ruined a perfectly calm Christmas Eve for the Atlanta fire department, records at central station revealed Thursday.

All engine companies in the downtown area under Chief John Terrell and Assistant Chief O. J. Parker were twice called out around midnight Wednesday by the activities of pranksters, a false alarm at the city auditorium and the explosion of a fireworks stand in front of 57 Peachtree street.

The latter incident shattered a plate glass window in a store and almost resulted in injury to several pedestrians from flying glass, officers said. Another false alarm at 12:21 Thursday morning was turned in from a box at Virginia avenue and Barnett street.

Mrs. Cowan was struck down and killed on her way home from a Christmas Eve shopping tour, and the police have not been able to locate a witness to the accident or the slightest clue to the identity of the car or driver, who fled the scene after the shooting.

Sergeant Ora Head, of the county police, said the uniformed men and detectives of the city department had been asked to aid in the search for the death car driver, but have been unable to learn nothing concerning the fatal mishap.

While city and county police scoured Atlanta and Fulton county for a clue to the death car driver, the two children of Mrs. Grace B. Cowan, killed near her home on the Bankhead highway at Center Hill Wednesday night, mourned for their mother and prepared arrangements for her funeral.

The church was elaborately decorated with Christmas greens and smilax, and white flowers banded on the altar and in flower baskets placed on either side.

Miss Annie Goode Torbett presided at the organ and Miss Lillian Clement sang two solos. The wedding march from "Lohengrin" was the recessional and Mendelssohn's the recessional.

The ushers, Arthur Weed and Louis Jesse, entered together. Mrs. Frank Specht was her sister's matron of honor. She wore blue satin trimmed with lace and fashioned with an ankle length flared skirt and high waist line. Her moire slippers matched her gown, and she carried a satin muffs, also the color of her gown, adorned with pink rosebuds and tulle.

Miss Margaret Weed, twin sister of Mrs. Specht, wore shell pink satin fashioned like that of the matron of honor. Her slippers were of pink moire, and her muffs of pink satin was trimmed with pink rosebuds. Miss Edith Weed, a third sister, and the flower girl, wore peach chiffon and carried a basket of pink rosebuds.

The lovely bride, entering with her father, Franklin Weed, who gave her in marriage, was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Dr. Maurice Clarke. The bride wore ivory satin with a long flared skirt and high waistline, the bodice having a cowl neckline. Her tulle veil was fashioned with cap effect, and adjusted to her head with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and valley lilies.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Weed entertained at an informal reception at their home on Ansley street in Decatur. Christmas

Miss Bridges Makes Debut At Brilliant Xmas Tea-Dance

Before a background of innumerable bouquets and baskets of brilliantly colored flowers, gifts from a host of friends to one of the prettiest and most popular debutantes of the current season, Miss Eugenie Bridges made her debut yesterday at an elaborate tea-dance given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bridges, at the Druid Hills Golf Club. The occasion assembled several hundred members of society's younger set and a number of attractive visitors who are spending the holidays in Atlanta. Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Bridges and their daughter was Miss Margaret Huffard, of Plandome, Long Island, who is the guest of Miss Bridges.

In an exquisite gown of red chiffon velvet worn with a crimson tulle toque Miss Bridges appeared as a striking and beautiful Christmas debutante. The soft graceful velvet skirt fell to an ankle length in front and to a floor length in the back. The bodice, fashioned with a short waistline, was trimmed with a tulle roke of matching red and gracing her left shoulder was a garland of white gardenias. Miss Bridges' gown was modeled of black lace worn over black satin. Her toque hat was of black tulle and she wore a shoulder bouquet of red roses. Miss Huffard's gown was an attractive tea model of peach-colored chiffon fashioned with a white tulle roke of peach-colored velvet. She wore a toque of gold metal cloth and her shoulder bouquet was fashioned of Parma violets.

The guests were received in the loggia which was brilliantly illuminated with myriads of red candles held in decorations were used throughout the home.

Mrs. Weed wore powder blue chiffon with shoulder corsage of pink rosebuds. Miss Hope Pearson kept the bride's book. The bride's going away costume was of gray satin with hat, coat and accessories of gray.

Following the bridal trip Dr. and Mrs. Johnson will make their home in New Bern, N. C.

crystal candelabra and a brightly lighted Christmas tree that stood at the entrance to the room. Palms, foliage plants and smilax were arranged artistically throughout the ballroom where dancing was enjoyed until 7 o'clock. In each corner of the spacious ballroom were garly decorated pine trees and hanging from the ceiling were garlands of holly, mistletoe and evergreens. Beautifully decorated tables were arranged on either side of the hall from where coffee and punch were served. Baskets of red roses and poinsettias adorned either end of each table alternating with handsome silver candelabras holding red tapers.

A merry feature of the occasion was the grand march in which members of the Atlanta's 1930-31 Debutantes Club of which Miss Bridges is a popular member, and their escorts participated. At the close of the march the lights were dimmed and thousands of make-believe snowflakes fell from the ceiling over the heads of the dancers. Miss Bridges has been an admired figure this winter, attending the brilliant social functions given for this season's buds, and has been honor guest at innumerable parties. She is an unusually beautiful girl and possesses a gracious and magnetic personality. She was graduated last June from Hollins College in Virginia, where during her four years she enjoyed extreme popularity with her classmates and faculty members. Miss Bridges is continuing her voice studies begun at Hollins and her friends predict for her a successful career should she decide to make this art her chosen profession following her debut season.

Christmas Tree Drops From Sky for Pupils

SPOKANE, Wash., Dec. 25.—(AP)—A group of youngsters in a desert community near the Utah-Idaho state line have probably their first Christmas tree today.

The story of the Christmas tree, which dropped from the sky, was related today by Jack O'Brien, air mail pilot.

O'Brien said he struck up an acquaintance with the youngsters and their teacher last fall, acknowledging their greeting by dipping his big plane.

He doesn't know the name of the community. It is so small he hasn't found it on the maps. But it is in a monotonous expanse of sagebrush, miles and miles from any trees. O'Brien circled the building Tuesday and gave his motor "the gun."

The pupils and teacher poured out of the school. At 500 feet O'Brien released the tree, which he had carried in the mail compartment. It bounded undamaged to the ground. He looked back to see the group dragging the tree into the school house.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

STUMPY GETS A WARNING.

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Pass on a warning when you may To help another on his way.

—Jump the Hare.
Life was so quiet and peaceful under the ice in the Smiling Pool that Stumpy, the three-legged son of Jerry Muskrat, gradually forgot that there was anything to fear. He forgot that there were such things as hungry enemies who would be glad of a young Muskrat for dinner. He couldn't know that certain folk were hungrier than ever in this cold weather, for the simple reason that they seldom had enough to eat. You see, storms and bitter cold weather made hunting difficult, and among those who ate meat full stomachs were seldom hungry. Only those who slept all winter or who, like Harry Jack the Gray Squirrel, and Chatterer the Red Squirrel and Striped Chipmunk, had stored up food in the days of plenty, knew what it was not to be hungry. The family of Jerry Muskrat should be included with these. While they had not stored much food they had stored some. But they didn't need to store food. They had to swim out and dig up roots in the bottom of the Smiling Pool or a few fresh water clams. And the weather, as you know, made no difference to them.

So, living so quietly and peacefully, Stumpy forgot that there was anything to a young Muskrat to fear. It seemed to him that no one in all the Great World could be safer. Thus he wasn't prepared for the warning brought him by Jump the Hare, and even when he had received that warning he didn't take it seriously. He had climbed out on his favorite tussock beside the open water of the Smiling Pool just above the Smiling Pool. There was an older swamp there and Jump used to come down for an occasional visit. He was waiting right near that tussock when Stumpy climbed out.

"Hello, Stumpy!" said Jump. "I've brought you some news."
"I hope it is good news," replied Stumpy with a grin.

"That is for you to say," Jump said. "Who do you think I have seen?"
"I haven't the least idea. Who have you seen?" asked Stumpy.

"Little Joe Otter," replied Jump. Stumpy was startled. He had seen Little Joe just once and that was in the late summer when Little Joe had passed through the Smiling Pool on his way to the Big River. He had passed only long enough to catch and eat a trout and had paid no attention to Stumpy or any of his brothers and sisters. At that time of year fish were plentiful and Little Joe was quite satisfied with them. Now it was different. Stumpy remembered that both Little Joe Otter and Billy Mink were dangerous in hard times and although there were no hard times with the Muskrats he suspected that there might be with other folk. "Where did you see him?" asked Stumpy.

"Along the Laughing Brook up in Fulton Market," said Jump. "Vegetables, Oysters, Meats, Fish, 156 Alabama St., S. W."

and open water such as you have here."

"What is a slippery slide?" inquired Stumpy.

Jump did his best to explain how Little Joe Otter dearly loves to slide, and for this purpose makes a slippery slide on a steep bank where there is open water at the bottom of the slide.

"Did he swim under the ice?" Stumpy asked.

"I didn't see him do that, but he was told to pay you a visit sooner or later," replied Jump.

Stumpy began to look exactly as he felt—uneasy. "In that case," said he, "he could swim under the ice of the Smiling Pool right to our house."

"Certainly," replied Jump. "What is more, he is sure to pay you a visit every foot of the Laughing Brook from the pond of Paddy the Beaver deep in the Green Forest to the River into which the Laughing Brook flows. He always does. So take my advice and keep an eye open for him." (Copyright, 1930, for The Constitution.)

AMERICAN ENGINEER KIDNAPED IN MEXICO

EL PASO, Texas, Dec. 25.—(AP)—Officials of the American Smelting and Refining Company here awaited details today of the reported escape of Hugh M. Craigie, 30-year-old engineer, from Mexican bandits who held him in a mountain rendezvous for ransom.

Craigie, a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and foreman of the mining company's property near Santa Barbara, Chihuahua, 350 miles south of El Paso, was kidnaped Tuesday. It was the first effort of the kind in Chihuahua since the revolutionary days of 1916. Santa Barbara residents were indignant. Juarez military authorities endeavoring to communicate with General Matias Ramos, commander of federal troops in the state. They said mounted men probably were sent after the kidnapping gang.

Mrs. Craigie notified company officials she would remain in Santa Barbara until the safety of her husband was assured.

The mine foreman, well known in El Paso, had been employed by the American Smelting and Refining Company since 1924.

WORK FOR TILT TO BE RESUMED TODAY BY B. H. S.

Rested, Purples Take Up
Grind Again With Short Session.

After a two-day vacation Boys' High football players will resume practice at 10 o'clock this morning at Piedmont park, in preparation for the New Year's day charity game in Houston, Texas, with the Houston All-Stars.

Today's practice will be only a light dummy scrimmage to limber the squad up for a hard session Saturday morning. Saturday's workout will be the last before the drive of the year as the Hurricanes will run signals Monday morning and leave early Monday night.

Coach "Shorty" Doyle was very much pleased with a Tuesday game between the seniors and their younger squad which ended in a scoreless tie. Each team threatened to score only once and both drives were halted inside the 3-yard line.

All the players who participated in the Tuesday game, with few exceptions, will be taken on the trip to Houston. Those same players will work in the dummy scrimmage today.

Meanwhile, all other prep sports are at a standstill, although some of the officials are working in an effort to complete the 1931 basketball schedules. The "big three" schedule was adopted Tuesday.

Officials of the North Georgia Intercollegiate conference are scheduled to meet again Monday, January 5, at the Atlanta Athletic Club and adopt a schedule and a constitution and by-laws. There are ten teams in the conference. Their playing schedule is expected to get started within a week after school reconvenes early in January.

Joe Engel Feeds 3,800 at Ball Park

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Dec. 25.—(AP)—If they did not already know it, some 3,800 hungry persons learned the way today to the Chattanooga stadium, home of the Chattanooga Lookouts, and were sent away well fed free of charge.

The Christmas dinner, put on by Joe Engel, owner of the local Southern league baseball club, attracted a continuous stream of needy and unemployed from 12 noon until 2 p. m. Food was served at tables in kitchen and in the stadium, and although it took two and three "helpings" in some cases, every one left happy, and satisfied.

BAT AVERAGES CONFIRM TERRY

Bill Given .401 Mark as League's Official
Leader.

NEW YORK, Dec. 25.—(AP)—Amid the crash of shattered records, Bill Terry, of the New York Giants, hammered his way last season to the first National league batting championship, a New Yorker had won in 15 years. The official National league averages for 1930, released today, credit Terry with a .401 batting average.

Terry joined the league's record-smashing effort by tying the league mark for the most safe hits in a season with 254, and led the circuit with 177 singles.

Babe Herman, of Brooklyn, finished second in the batting race with a .383 average, and Chuck Klein, of Philadelphia, was next at .380.

Wisconsin Cuts Athletic Expense

MADISON, Wis., Dec. 25.—(AP)—The athletic department of the University of Wisconsin expects to retain 11 branches of sports, officials said today, after cutting the number of teams and eliminating some of the accustomed trip schedules.

Each department plans to purchase as new equipment. The department is expected to save about $10,000 by the reduction of trip schedules.

Coach Tom Jones said he would send his track team to the Texas state meet. The athletic department expects to save about $10,000 by the reduction of trip schedules.

JACKET COURT SQUAD LEAVES TODAY ON TRIP

Annual Holiday Invasion
Includes 6 Games; 10
Players Travel.

Georgia Tech's basketball team will leave the city at noon today for Washington, D. C., which will be the first stop of the annual eastern holiday invasion of the team. The Jackets will play the Ben Franklin University team Saturday night in Washington.

Following the game in Washington, the Jackets will enjoy the sights of the national capital and on Monday will hop over to Baltimore, where the Arundel Boat Club will host them in the second game of the trip.

When Coach Mumford calls the roll at the train today, Alternate Captain Vance Maree will be missing. The big tackle on the football team is in San Francisco where he will participate in a charity game between eastern stars and an eleven of Notre Dame's "greats" Saturday afternoon.

Six games, including the Washington opener Saturday night, will be played during the invasion on eastern coasts.

In addition to Coach Roy Mumford, Trainer Mike Chambers and Manager Paul Dorn, Captain Vance Maree, Tate, Rains, Sullivan, Phillips, Jones, Gooding, McArthur and Herron will make the trip.

The holiday games include Ben Franklin University in Washington Saturday; Arundel Boat Club, Baltimore, December 29; Brooklyn Knights of Columbus, December 30; Manhattan College in New York, January 1; Rider College in Trenton, N. J., January 2; Temple University in Philadelphia, January 3.

Miami Prep Eleven Beats Stivers, 18-0

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 25.—(AP)—Fleet-footed ground gainers of the Miami High school football team proved too much for the aggregation from Stivers, Fla., today.

The game was an inter-sectional Christmas Day game, 18-0, before a crowd of approximately 7,500.

The feature of the contest, played in semi-tropical weather and under a warm sun, was a 42-yard dash for the touchdown by Jack Henderson, Miami halfback, in the third quarter.

Gene Will Hunt Turkeys Today

SEA ISLAND BEACH, Ga., Dec. 25.—(AP)—James J. Tunney, who swamped punches for cash a few years ago, is using the holiday to buck old man par, trap-hopping pigeons and the elusive wild turkey, but this time a message of penitence will be sufficient reward for the retired boxer.

"Gentleman Gene" and Mrs. Tunney called a halt in the sports program today to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Coffin at their Seale Island estate.

Big Ten Swim Meet Set for Michigan Pool

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Dec. 25.—(AP)—Paradoxically, the University of Iowa swimming pool is too big to be the scene of the Western conference championship meet.

Conference rules call for a 75-foot course in this meet, while the Hawkeye tank measures 150. If Iowa places a turntable in the middle of the meet will be held here in 1933, Big Ten coaches have decided.

The Hawks had sought the 1931 meet. It will be held at Michigan in 1932, and the 1933 championships at Ohio State which is represented in the water for the first time this year although its new natatorium is not yet ready.

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 25.—One of the finest looking football teams so far as individual stars are concerned is just about to be given a thorough spanking by the chassis of the undefeated Notre Dame machine.

One visits the west-south team practicing under the direction of Jimmy Phelan and one's imagination is struck by the tremendous amount of polished football material on the field.

Three weeks and no team in America could beat them. A backfield with Welch, Wilcox, Thomas, Saunders, Edelson available, and Maffett, Maree, Steele, Dye, Pickard and Jonas in the line, could be molded into a great team in time.

But one visits another gridiron where Joe Savoldi, the people's choice; Carideo, Elder, Brill, Moynihan, Metzgar, Cannon and all the rest of the Notre Dame flock are at work and is impressed with the difference team play makes.

The Irish are wheeling through the old-familiar formations as if in the midst of a season.

However good the west-south boys are potentially they will be swamped by the machine-like team play of the Irish.

50,000 CALIFORNIANS CAN'T BE WRONG.

The all-star game promoted by Champ Pickens for charity will attract 50,000 people to the coliseum Saturday.

Joe Savoldi, of Notre Dame; Vance Maree, of Georgia, and Freddie Sington, of Alabama, are the three most imposing athletes your correspondent has seen in all this village that is literally crawling with football players. Each one is the answer to a coach's dream.

Don Moses, the star fullback on the Los Angeles firemen's team that played North Dakota this afternoon, is a former U. S. C. star. After graduation he took the civil service examination for admission to the fire department and flunked. He got in on a re-exam.

Not only that, but eligibility rules here are peculiar. George Dye, recent U. S. C. star lineman, was once a player on the Alabama team. It seems one can transfer here and play right off. The time one has played at another school is charged against his time on the coast.

Dan McGugin sent the Alabama team a great message through Blinking Horn. He said, in a telegram, "Alabama players everywhere are universal favorites—north, east, south or west. Please tell Wallace for me that I think this is a reason why they should make every effort to show their gratitude for this most unusual support."

SO THIS IS "IT"!

Johnny Mack Brown was in the lobby of the Vista yesterday chatting with friends. One of them said to him: "John, Coach Wade paid you a compliment the other day. We were talking about the value of good safety men in football and Wallace said that he considered you and Stumpy Thomason the best safety men he had ever seen in southern football."

Brown wrinkled his brow. "Stumpy who?" he asked.

"Thomason. You know," his informer explained. "Stumpy Thomason," Brown pursued musingly. "Who did he play with?"

"EARS" COMES THROUGH.

"Ears" Whitworth, the substitute guard, in presenting the set of matched golf clubs to Wallace Wade Christmas Eve, said: "Coach, here's something the boys are giving you and they hope it will make you as good a golfer as Coach Neeley thinks he is."

Rose Bowl Tilt Official Defends Grid Coaches

Walter Powell, Atlanta Businessman, Says Football Instructors Do Good Job.

By Ralph McGill.

Walter Powell, Atlanta businessman and football official, leaves today for Pasadena and the Rose Bowl game New Year's Day between Alabama and the Washington State Cougars.

And Walter Powell leaves a message. After ten years as a successful businessman Powell has the perspective to look at the coaching problem and at football with more balance than the average man. Powell was an officer, successful coach and now keeps in touch with the game by officiating.

North Dakota Eleven Beats Firemen, 14-9

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 25.—(AP)—North Dakota University's football team was too much for the Los Angeles Firemen today and the Firemen were defeated 14-9 in a 14-9 victory in one of the best games seen here this season.

The Firemen team was composed of former college and high-school players.

NEW YORK, Dec. 25.—(AP)—The national junior indoor tennis championship gets under way at the seventh regiment armory here tomorrow with 144 youngsters in the field. Play in the national boys' tournament will start on Saturday.

William Jacobs, of Baltimore, a freshman at the University of Pennsylvania, begins defense of his junior championship against Irving Lindenbaum of Boys' High school. This will be a second-round match. Jacobs has drawn a first-round bye.

The Baltimore youth is seeded No. 1 in this tournament.

ALEX IS PRIMED TO LEAD ATTACK ON EXTRA POINT

Jacket Mentor To Advance New Arguments, Cameron Says.

By L. S. Cameron, United Press Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Dec. 25.—(UP)—Football's hardest perennial may reach a final blooming here within the next few weeks. The point-after-touchdown, long a source of discussion among coaches, the rule-making body and other experts of the game, is coming in for a fresh lot of discussion and something officially may be done about it this time.

The first blasts at this scoring item will be fired Monday when the football coaches' association meets at the Hotel Astor.

William A. Alexander, Georgia Tech's famous coach, will lead the assault on the point. He has been evolving some freshly worded arguments against it. Whether anything will be done, the only rule due for discussion, he says, is not clear.

Some experts believe nothing will be done. They point out that there are no new objections against the extra-point plan, and that since the suggested change has been turned down so often before it has no real reason why it could be approved this time.

Wolfgang and Genaro Clash for Flyweight Crown Tonight

NEW YORK, Dec. 25.—(AP)—The "Mighty Atom" return to Madison Square Garden tomorrow night in the case of Mike Wolgast, of Philadelphia, and Frankie Genaro, of New York. Between them they should, in 15 rounds, provide a new and undisputed holder of the world's flyweight championship.

Wolfgang, a fast and shifty youngster of 21, is the 112-pound king in the eyes of the New York and Pennsylvania state athletic commissions. Genaro, on the other hand, is recognized by the National Boxing Association. He is a draw a generally accepted titleholder should emerge after tomorrow night's bout.

Genaro, at 20, is a veteran of a full decade of ring activity during which he has met all of the leading flyweights and lots of bantamweights in this country and Europe. Genaro may, or may not, speed in recent years but the little New Yorker is as rugged as the little fellows come and he can hit as well. Wolgast, on the other hand, is a fast and shifty youngster of 21, is the 112-pound king in the eyes of the New York and Pennsylvania state athletic commissions.

Wolfgang probably will enter the ring at 8 to 5 odds, perhaps 2 to 1 favorite over the veteran New Yorker who has not fought in New York in more than three years.

The mix-up in flyweight title claims originated when Fidel La Barba retired as undefeated champion in 1927. Genaro won N. B. A. approval by capturing a tournament in Canton, Ohio, and Wolfgang won a similar tournament here to gain recognition in New York and Pennsylvania.

Injuries, Illness Hurt Charity Game Squads

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 25.—(AP)—Injuries and illness today caused shifts in the lineups of the two all-star teams in the annual East-West charity football game.

The eastern team lost George Van Bibber, tackle from Purdue, who was wrenched a knee in practice and probably will not be in shape for the contest. A severe cold, contracted two days ago, prevented Jim Bausch, big University of Kansas fullback, from donning a uniform. Whether Bausch will be able to play in the western lineup is problematical.

24 Jai Alai Players Set for Miami Games

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 25.—A large number of winter visitors will watch one of the swiftest and most exciting games in the realm of sport today when 24 jai alai players from Spain, Cuba, Brazil and Mexico start action at the Biscayne Fronton in Miami, next week.

Jai alai, already known to many thousands of people in the United States, is to Latin America what baseball is to our country. The game is a combination of handball and tennis. It is held in a court or "fronton," closed on three sides by high cement walls. The playing field is 15 by 15 yards. Principles of the game are similar to those in handball, but jai alai is considerably faster.

Winter Golf Army Starts Short Rest

AGUA CALIENTE, Mexico, Dec. 25.—(AP)—A holiday lull came to the scene today of golfers' winter army of professionals and amateurs experimenting with the new ball before taking up their play in the southland's two big tournaments next month.

With the experience of two competitions with the "balloon" behind them, most of the hunk invaders awaited the $25,000 Agua Caliente open and the $10,000 Los Angeles open next month.

Cleveland Pair Wins Father-Son Tourney

PIEHURST, N. C., Dec. 25.—(AP)—Francis E. Drake and his son, Alford, of Cleveland, today won the annual Father-Son tournament, a golf tournament, with a big field competing. They had a gross score of 88, and a net of 73.

The low gross round was scored by George T. Dunlap, and George T. Dunlap, Jr., of New York, with 85. Young Dunlap, a member of the Princeton golf team, is the intercollegiate golfing champion.

Vince Dundee Wins Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 25.—(AP)—Vince Dundee, 155 1-2, Newark, N. J., won a decision over Jack McTearan, 153, Pittsburgh, in a 10-round bout here today.

Billy Bully, 146, Detroit, won over Larry Kaufmann, 141 1-2, Pittsburgh, in six.

COUGARS PROFIT BY PSYCHOLOGY, DANFORTH SAYS

Hollingbery Happy as Club Speeds; Tide Too Energetic.

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 25.—The first strident notes of the band outside the Rose Bowl tent were sounded today when musicians of the Los Angeles sports group blew a gay flourish across the top of their pages, predicting Alabama would beat Washington State New Year's Day.

They announced their decision after watching the Red Elephants do their chores. They explained it carefully, with a searching analysis that went more deeply into the intricacies of Alabama's play than the official body-guard of experts here with Alabama could hope to do. The boys here are good.

In firmly establishing the Tide as favored by Southern California experts unwittingly gave Babe Hollingbery, the Cougar coach, a handsome Christmas present.

They did not mean to favor him, far from it. But their pean of victory for Alabama was just another pep talk for the Cougars. Long since the best minds from this section have made it totally unnecessary for Coach Babe to say a word to his boys before sending them into the field.

OLD PSYCHOLOGY

It does not matter what Washington State does in practice, we can forget them. They are certain to go into the game fortified with all the psychological advantages the game offers.

It was a fierce scrimmage the Red Elephants had on the hard-packed field at Occidental College this morning.

Coach Wade and the third team running Cougar plays at the time for an hour. He called it dummy scrimmage, but law me, they hit the hapless third team ball carriers as if to rend them apart at the joints. Little Bellini, third-string, halfback, was battered around by the big bigs as if he had been a volleyball.

Then the first and second teams went on offense and drove plays in turn at the third string. The regulars were supposed to run as hard as possible, but they were supposed to protect themselves at all times.

This also was called dummy scrimmage because the regulars were supposed to call it a light workout.

Jim Moore, the passing end, was kicked just above the knee and came out limping. Elmore, another end, picked up a bruised leg. Old Man Boykin got a cracked hip.

JUST TRIFLES.

Mere trifles they were, according to the coaches.

The ground was as hard as concrete and feet sounded like the rushing of a drove of cattle. It was no wonder they were banged up somehow.

Frankly, an Alabama dummy scrimmage is rougher than a regular scrimmage at other places I have been.

Well, the varsity was sluggish and the second team looked fine. That gave Coach Wade a little bit of plenty. He kept after his leading ladies all morning and enjoyed himself no little.

FULL OF PEP.

Yet at the finish, when he sent them to the showers, the sound of singing and small chatter and shouts of exuberance came from the showers. He kept after his leading ladies all morning and enjoyed himself no little.

"They are not tired," he declared, "and they should be. Listen to them cutting up. They should be worn out. Something is wrong somewhere."

Italian Wins Swim In Icy River Seine

PARIS, Dec. 25.—(AP)—In water only six degrees above freezing 21 hardy swimmers today leaped off the south bank of the river Seine in front of the Cougars to swim the annual Christmas cup swimming race across the river.

Only 10 finished the race which was won by Gambi, of Italy.

Levinson, Braddock Will Fight Jan. 12

CHICAGO, Dec. 25.—(AP)—King Levinson, the former fist peddler of Maxwell street, and James J. Braddock, hard-punching light-heavyweight from Jersey City, have signed for a 10-round bout in the stadium January 12.

The match originally was planned for December 29, but was delayed when Levinson became ill. In three fights at the stadium Levinson has knocked out Les Lomski, won a decision over Jimmy Slattery and lost a decision to Tommy Loughran. Braddock's last appearance resulted in a decision over Lomski, later reversed to favor the Aberdeen (Wash.) assassin.

The Other Bullet

By Nancy Barr Mavity

INSTALLMENT XXIX.

"We now come to a very crucial question—whether of those shots was fired first? By a fortunate circumstance, I was able to analyze a sample of the blood of the man who was killed, obtained within a short time of his death. The chemical analysis of this blood, which Mr. Piper collected on his handkerchief when he examined the body on the day of the murder—"

"The district attorney could contain himself no longer. He leaped to his feet, glaring balefully at Peter, who met his gaze with a wide and provocative grin.

"Your honor, I object to the leading part which the Herald newspaper is taking in this case! This—this Piper had no business to be there at all! And if he was there, he had no right to obstruct the course of justice and tamper with the evidence in the interests of a sensational press. I understood that Mr. Travis was in charge of the defense. If he cares to give it over to a reporter, let him say so."

Peter cast a wary, upturned glance at the judge, decided that he could risk it, and lunged to his feet.

"I'm sorry the district attorney finds my presence on the scene so embarrassing," he said. "As a matter of fact, I wasn't there for the paper at all. If I could be clever enough to be put on murder stories before they happened, I'd probably get that long-awaited raise in salary."

"No more of this alteration, gentlemen!" If anybody ever said "tut-tut," Judge Wood's tone implied that he would have said it. "Mr. Piper does not appear to me to have tampered with the evidence—he has merely gathered some which would otherwise have been overlooked. Go on, please, Mr. Kurner."

The antennae-like fingers ceased twirling the pocket lens.

"The chemical analysis of this blood shows," Kurner said in his dry, dictatorial manner, "that the deceased was not attacked unawares, while he was sitting quietly at his desk. At the time of his death, his physical condition was that of a man who has been running at utmost speed!"

The district attorney's small, wiry figure jerked forward as if he were a mechanical toy whose spring had been violently released.

"I object to any such statement being made as if it were a fact," he rasped. "With all due respect to the learned professor—the tone of the words conveyed a scarcely concealed sneer—there is such a thing as common sense. Unless the eminent Dr. Kurner was even more prompt than Mr. Piper and arrived at the scene of the murder before it was committed, he couldn't possibly know that a man sitting dead at his desk had been chasing himself around the house and then sat down to get himself shot. He's foisting his hare-brained opinions on this jury, attempting to befuddle them with high sounding technicalities! I object to this line of testimony as sheer opinion—and far-fetched opinion at that."

"Now, Mr. Linforth," the judge said soothingly, "you know as well as I do that a witness qualified as an expert is not restricted to questions of fact but it allowed to express his opinion. He surveyed the rate district attorney with kindly severity, as if he were trying to quiet a child in a tantrum."

Kurner looked down upon the tumult with feigned detachment. He cast a single bleak glance at Linforth from behind his glittering eye glasses. They were polished until they shone like clear ice, and his voice, when he turned to the judge, was sharp and pointed as an icicle.

"I am not concerned with opinions, if your honor please," he said. "I am stating a demonstrable, and in this case, an ascertained, fact."

"Do you mean to say," that, unlike the rest of humanity, it is impossible for you to make a mistake?" Linforth clutched at acorn as a covering for his uneasiness.

"Human fallibility has nothing to do with it," Kurner said coldly. "I am willing to say that a mistake is impossible—because chemistry makes no mistakes."

Travis had listened with the restrained triumph of a bridge player who is about to make a nine-point entry good in the dummy. But the jury would not relish being told that chemistry makes no mistakes—especially as they knew nothing about chemistry. His keen face tightened imperceptibly as he turned to Linforth.

"I don't believe I have yet told the district attorney that the direct examination of this witness is closed," he said, with stinging politeness. "You will have the opportunity of cross-examining him later—if you care to." He hoped the jury had caught the implication that cross-examination of Kurner would be a dangerous and futile proceeding. "Will you just tell the jury the method used to arrive at the conclusion which you have stated, Dr. Kurner?"

"I first extracted sufficient blood from the handkerchief to enable me to make a test of its chemical constituents. It is a well-known fact, familiar to all students of modern biochemistry, that prolonged and violent physical activity releases lactic acid into the blood stream. The presence of this lactic acid results in a marked acceleration of rigor mortis. In other words, the body of a person who dies immediately after a chase stiffens almost immediately, whereas the body of a person who was inactive in the period immediately preceding death does not begin to stiffen until four or five hours have elapsed."

"Mr. Piper's observation of the peculiar stiffness of the body of Mortimer led me to apply the lactic acid test. The reaction was positive. The physical characteristic of immediate stiffening of the body, supported by chemical analysis, thus led to the conclusion that the deceased was not shot while sitting quietly at his desk, but had been engaged in violent exercise such as running."

"We are here concerned with two shots from two different weapons. In this connection two questions arise: which shot was fired first, and which shot was responsible for the death of the deceased? Comparison of the bullets shows that of the two shots, one through the jugular vein and one through the lung, only the lung-shot was fired from the pistol in evidence as that fired by Mrs. Everett."

"Either shot might have proved fatal—but the shot through the jugular vein would bring death almost immediately. The shot through the lung on the other hand, while it might have been a mortal wound, would not cause immediate death, although it would certainly suspend any violent activity on the part of the victim. After such a shot, Mortimer would certainly have been incapable of vigorous exercise. Yet the blood analysis shows that death occurred immediately after exercise physical activity."

"That is the situation with which we are confronted. Those are the elements of the problem. It remains not only to solve the problem, but to solve it in such a way that any possible alternative solutions are eliminated. It is not enough to say what might have happened, but we must determine what actually did happen."

"Let us consider first the hypothesis that Mrs. Everett first shot Mortimer through the lung and that he was later shot through the jugular vein by some person unknown. We must then imagine that the victim, having been shot through the lung, later ran for a considerable distance, returned to his desk and there received the second and instantly fatal wound. Such activity on his part, however, would be physically impossible."

"We are, therefore, driven back on the only rational reconstruction of the actual event."

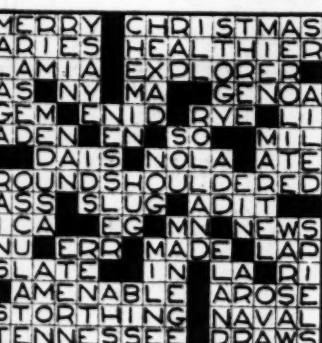

Every member of the jury was leaning forward with eyes fixed on Kurner's face. Through his arid, unadorned sentences he had somehow contrived to place the scene vividly before them. Those in the back row tilted forward, peering across their fellows' shoulders. A woman caught her breath sharply in an audible hiss. The tension of the approaching climax held them rigid. In the silent courtroom the buzzing of a large blue bottle fly against the window screen was loud as the engine of an airplane.
